DR. VAN DYKE'S NEWLY FOUND EVIDENCE. TATEMENT BY DR. SPEAR, ONE OF MR. TALMAGE'S COUNSEL-THE CHARGE OF PERJURY NOT SUS-TAINED.

The Rev. Dr. S. T. Spear, of Brooklyn, who was one of the counsel of Mr. Talmage in his trial for falsebood and decett, has written a long letter demouncing the action of the Rev. Dr. Van Dyke in spreading before the Presbyterian ministers of Brooklyn the alleged new evidence regarding Mr. Talmage's testimony at the trial Dr. Spear declares the conclusion drawn from the evidence that Mr. Talmage is guilty of false swearing is unwarranted and untrue. He says that Mr. Talmage, after receiving the letter sent him December 3 by Dr. Van Dyke, consulted with him (Dr. Sp-ar), and on his advice pild no attention to it. The advice was founded on the character of the letter and Mr. Talmage's views of the relations of the writer to him, and in Dr. Spear's view Mr. Talmage consulted his own self-respect by ignoring the letter. Dr. Spear also says that Dr. Van Dyke should not have made the exhibit of the case which he did to the ten Presoyterian ciercymen who met December 15 un il ne had sought or secured a personal mierview with Mr. Talmage. He also decreates the pu hie soandal caus d by the publication of the matter in the newspapers, for which Dr. Van Dyke says he is not responsible.

In regard to the evidence submitted to the Concaus d by the publication of the matter in the newspapers, for which Dr. Van Dyke says he is not recommible.

In regard to the evidence submitted to the Conference, Dr. Spear says that he has carefully examined it, and is willing to stake his reputation as a thinker that he can frame an argument which will convince any five hundred cantid men that the evidence does not sustain the conclusion of false swearing on the part of Mr. Talmage; and if the latter is accused before the Presbytery he can show that the accuser is a false accuser, and Mr. Talmage med not fear the result of another trial if it cours. As to the contract made by Mr. Talmage with The Advance, Dr. Spear writes that he is told by Mr. Talmage bat he does not know what had become of his copy of it, and the only other lovy was in possession of General Howard, of The Advance, and the latter could not produce it. It must have been kept and produced by some one who is now much interested in breaking down the good name of Mr. Talmage. In conclusion Dr. Spear writes that he has no idea that the Presbytery of Brooklyn will see the least occasion in the recent alleged disclosures for a new trial of Mr. Talmage, and he is sure the Presbytery could perpetrate no greater foily than the taking up of the case would be.

The attention of a Tribung reporter was called yesterday to the fact, not before noticed, that by the terms of his contract with Howard & Co., Mr. Talmage agreed on October 4, 1876, to insert in the issue of The Christian at Work for October 12 an amouncement that he would in one month leave that paper to go to the Advance. In order that such an announcement may have been necessary to insert it in the paper by October 9, as the paper went to press that evening. Yet on the morning of that day Mr. Talmage declared in his testimony that he had no idea of inserting anything in the paper about his leaving dit; so that whether he wrote 'he valedictory editorial on the afternoon of October 9, or on the day before, as its date declares, the contract con

FUNERAL OF THE REV. DR. IRVING.

The funeral of the Rev. Dr. Theodore Irving took place yesterday at the Courch of the Holy Trinity. Bishop Potter read the service, assisted by the Rev. Drs. Tyng, Rice and Cooper. There was a large attendance of friends, and the entire body of St. John's School, of which the deceased clerayman was superintendent, was present. Dr. Iving reviewed briefly the life of Dr. Irving, dwelling on his merits and peculiar talents. The remains were taken to Greenwood Cemeiery for interment.

Dr. Irving was born in 1809. He was the son of Dr. Peter Irving, a brother of Washington Irving. When the latter was appointed Secretary of Legation at the Court of St. James Theodore, then nineteen years old, accompanied him as his private secretary. On his return to New-York young Irving beg an the study of law, but soon received an appointment at Hobart College as Professor of History and Belles-lettres. Here he remained thirteen years, and here, in 1835, he wrote "The Conquest of Florida." In 1850 he resigned his professorship at Hobart, to accept a similar one in the College of the City of New-York, then known as the Free Academy. It was here that he decided on entering the church. In 1855 he was ordained an Episcopal minister. His first rectorship was in Bay Kidge; subsequently he had churse of a church at Richmond, S. I., and later of the Church of the Mediator in this city. Afterward he was induced to accept the presidency of a woman's school in Canada, out finding his health, never strong, unequal to the church, he returned to New-York, and founded a similar institution in this city, which he named St. Johns. His last position in the church was as assistant rector at the Caurch of the Holy Trinity, where he preached his lest sermon a year ag.. His last literary work was "More than a Conqueror," published in 1873.

"WES" ALLEN'S ALIBI SUSTAINED.

The trial of "Wes" Allen for picking the pocket of Thomas Rochetord on the night of October 29 and stealing a gold watch worth $200 was concluded in the Court of Sessions in Brooklyn yesterday. The testimony was reopened in order that the prisoner's brother, "The" Allen, might rebut the evidence of T. F. Clarke in regard to the efforts made for the return of Clarke's watch, stolen at the same time. The witness said that he had advised Mr. Clarke to advertise for the return of his watch "and no questions asket," at his (Allen's) hotel in Houston-st. On cross-examination the witness said that he had been acquainted with theves for thirty-five years, and they knew that he would not betray them. He had been the medium for the restoration of more than a thousand stolen articles. The prisoner was recalled and stated that he had not been arrested for eight years, and had been married four years.

The case for the prisoner was summed up by his counsel, General B. F. Tracy, who claimed that there was no reason for the prosecution of Allen, except that he had been a thief and was a Republican. It was impossible that Allen could have been in Elmira, as had been shown, and could have been in Elmira, as had been shown, and could have committed the offence with which he was charged. General Tracy spoke for more than an hour. The case against Allen was argued by Assistant District-Attorney Wernberg, who claimed that it was not conclusively shown that the prisioner was in Elmira. The jury, after nearly two hours' deliberation, returned a verdict of not guilty. Allen left the court-room with his friends.

SAD DEATH OF A CRIPPLED BOY.

SAD DEATH OF A CRIPPLED BOY.

The death from starvation and maltreatment of Thomas Hudson, age thirteen, was reported at the Coroners' office yesterday by Dr. William Hopkins, of the Randall Island Hospital, where the boy had been a patient for a week. He had been a cripple from infancy, unable to move his limbs, and had always been confined to a room, where frequently he was locked in for days when his father, who is a street-sweeper, was at work, and his mother away. The Hudsons live on the second floor of a rear tenement-house at No. 318 East Eleventh-st., but were until a month ago tenants at No. 420 in the same street. Their landlady at that place says that they were constantly fighting and drinking; most of the time Mrs. Hudson was an upmate of the work-house on Biackwelf's island. After their removal, a month ago, the boy Thomas and his younger sister sickened and were treated, notil the boy was sent to the hospital, by a woman physician from the Infirmary at No. 128 Secondare. A reporter who made inquiries among other treaters at No. 318 East Eleventh-st., vesterday. physician from the Infirmary at No. 128 Secondave. For such patients as can afford to pay the small sum which is asked, ample accommodations now exist but for those who have no means to pay the charge additional accommodations are necessary. The report of the treasurer shows that $17.824 96 was expended in the year, leaving a balance of $2,434 62.

ROBBING A SAFE IN A PRIVATE HOUSE. DIAMONDS VALUED AT $2,000 TAKEN, BUT MONEY, DIAMONDS VALUED AT $2,000 TAKEN, BUT MONEY, CHECKS, ETC., LEFT BEHIND.

A mysterious robbery was committed December 17 at the house of A. F. Willmarth, vice-president of the Home Insurance Company, at No. 23 West Fifty-sixth-st. The police were not informed of the robbery until Tuesday, and have not yet made any arrests. The stolen property consisted mainly of diamonds valued at $2,000. They were kept in a safe which stood in the front room on the second floor of the house; the key that unlocked the safe was in a closet in the back room. On December 17 Mrs. Willmarth saw the contents of the safe untouched, and put the key in its drawer. The following day it was noticed that the door of the closet in which the key was kept could not be opened, but several days elabsed before the lock-smith was sent for. He found the look of the closet door broken, apparently by force. The safe key was in its place, but some diamo ds and money had been taken from the safe. The most singular feature of the robbery was that a large amount of money and checks representing twice the value of the stolen articles had been left untouched in the safe, while a pocketbook containing a $100 bill and $125 in gold coin had been taken. Five $100 bills that were in plain sight had been left; in the drawer whence the key had been taken was also a quantity of valuable diamonds which the their must have seen, yet they were untouched. The stolen property included two diamond cluster riags, three other diamond rings and one black onyx ring, with the letter "W" in diamonds; one pair of diamond and one pair of emerald earrings, a diamond pin, a pair of black onyx sleeve-buttons, with diamonds; a lady's gold watch and chain, and a Russia leather pocketbook containing $225.

The police concluded that the thief must be in the house and well informed as to the movements of its inmares. On this theory they have been working, but without result so far. The stolen diamonds have not been recovered, although the pawnshops throughout the city have been searched

REPORTS ABOUT THE WORLD'S FAIR.

A statement was recently sent from this city and given a wide circulation to the effect that it is one of the conditions of the bill constituting the United States International Commission that $2,000,000 shall be subscribed by January 10, 1881; it was also said that adeputation would be appointed soon to visit Washington and ask Congress to extend the time. This statement yesterday was pronounced utterly unfounded by the secretary of the Commission. The bill does not specify any time when there shall be an aggregate of subscriptions, nor does it fix any sum necessary to be subscribed, except that the last section, which was suggested by Senator Edmunds, provides "that not less than $1,000,000 shall be subscribed, and not less than $1,000,000 shall be subscribed, and not less than 10 per centum thereof shall be paid in before said corporation shall do any corporate act other than the acts necessary to its organization." This means that no contracts for buildings and so forth cao be made until $1,000,000 has been paid in. The bill also provides that it shall be the duty of the Commissioners to open books for subscriptions to the capital stock and keep them open for sixiy days, at the end of which time the memoers of the Commission shall be called together for the election of permanent officers. The first meeting of shareholders is to take place at the same time, and twenty-five from their number are to be elected members of the Commission, who, together with the executive officers of the Commission, are to constitute a Committee of Finance. It is not necessary to the organization will therefore be held January 10.

rooms were hired at No. 36 Bond-st, and fitted up to meet the requirements of a library, but the demand for books has so largely increased that the accommodations have already proved far too small. The library was opened March 22, and in the next month 1,653 books were given out. The demand has been increasing from 400 to 500 volumes monthly, and in the last month it reaches 5,355. The number of amplicants increased from 712 March 22, to 3,117 December 1. In March the library contained 1,837 volumes and increased to 3,674 in November. Up to November 1, 22,558 volumes had been lent, and only two of these were lost. The reading-room has been opened daily since June 1, and is supplied with thirty-three periodicals. For less than seven and a half months the expenses were $2,482. Among the assets are the life memberships, sixty-six gifts amounting to $3,117 and twenty-six subscriptions, which amount to $330. Gifts of money and books are requested by the members of the society.

The closing exercises of the West Side Italian School, at No. 24 Sullivan-st., which was founded October 8, 1879, by the Children's Aid Society, took School, at No. 24 Sullivan-81., which was founded October 8, 1879, by the Children's Ald Society, took place last evening. The school is conducted by Mrs. E. F. Alleyn. With the aid of several women who have tendered their services, she instructs almost 400 Italian children. There was much difficulty at first in inducing the children to attend the school, but they finally came in great numbers when presents of clothing and sometimes of toos were made to them. The school bours are from 3 to 6 and from 7 to 9. Owing to limited space only a part of the pupils could be entertained at the festival last night. They were all scated on benches facing a piano and a Christinas tree which was laden with toys and candies. The walls were festooned with ivy, holly and strings of pop-corn. The exercises were conducted by Charles L. Brace, of the Children's Aid Society, and Mrs. Alieyn. They consisted of recitations, choruses and carols, in which all the pupils participated. Cake and ice cream were then brought in, and each cupil received presents. To the girls were given calico dresses, leit skirts, hoods and dolls, and to the boys cardigan jackets, comforters and caps.

POISONED BY EATING PICKLES.

The death of Rebecca Isaaca, age thirteen, from eating poisoned pickles, was reported yesterday at the Coroners' office. The girl was the daughter of a cloth manufacturer at No. 417 Broome-st., whose home is at No. 100 Allen-st. She attended a school not far from ber home, and on Tuesday was in her class as usual. At night she felt sick and the next day returned early from school, took to her bed and manifested symptoms of acid poisoning. She died Thursday. Dr. Feidman, of Rivington-st., the family physician, learned from the child that she had eaten a green pickle, purchased at a grocery store near the school Tuesday. Yesterday he obtained one at the same place and submitted it to a chemical analysis. The Coroner will make a post-mortem examination to-day.

MEN AND WOMEN ON THE ICE.

Flags floated from the various signal stations in Central Park yesterday, announcing that for the first time this season there was good skating. The lovers of this sport hastened to take advantage of the opportunity, and all day long a stream of people might have been seen in Central Park going up the walk toward the lake. It was almost a perfect day for skating. The air was cool and crisp, and the ice was excellent. The northwestern part of the lake had not frozen over well, and sleepy-looking park-keepers stood along the edge of the ice thrown open to skaters to keep too adventurous spirits off the dangerous part. The skaters began to gather early in the morning, and by 10 o'clock they numbered several hundreds. In the afternoon the lake was completely covered with persons who were skating or trying to skate. Most of these were boys between the ages of eight and sixteen, who skated, slipped or tumbled and saw stars. A number of them indulged in the exciting sport of seeing how near they could go to the places marked dangerous without falling in the water. This amusement was made mor exciting by the fact that the keepers would espy them every few minutes and drive them away. A young man who got a part of his clothing thoroughly wet was declared by unanimous consent to be the champion at this pastime.

There was also a number of women on the ice, and their prefty skating costumes contrasted strikingly with the dark clothing of the men by whom they were surrounded. Some of them were accomplished skaters, and struck off boldly with their escorts. Others, however, were content to take one stroke at a time, and to flutter spasmodically along the shore of the lake. Late in the afternoon nen began to come un from down town in large numbers, and among them were many excellent skaters. The shores of the lake were lined with spectators during the afternoon, and a line of carriages extended along the driveways of the Park looking down on the lake. The lake were lined with spectators during the

The Red Star Line steamship Waesland arrived from Antwerp yesterday after a voyage of twentyone days. The delay was caused by the machinery becoming disabled when within a thousand miles of Sandy Hook, ten days before her arrival. The weather was moderate during the early part of the voyage. On the evening of December 13 the piston-rod of the low-pressure cylinder bent and became useless. The vessel lay rolling and pitching for nineteen hours in the sea way before she could be put on her course under sail. The disabled part of the engine was disconnected, and the engines were run at very slow speed with the high-pressure cylinder. With the aid of sail and steam the vessel made scarcely more than steerage-way a portion of the time. Bad weather followed and some of the sails were lost. In the storm of Tuesday the vessel was set close to the New-Jersey shore, and at the height of the gale she was run 130 miles to the eastward to keep her off shore.

The steamship Edith Godden, from Montejo Bay, brought a report vesterday of the loss of the British bark Fontabella and a portion of her crew. The Fontabella sailed from Falmouth December 10 for London with a cargo of suyar. The vessel had safely cleared Port Reef when the wind calined and a strong sea current set her toward the reef, three miles to the leeward of Falmouth. When within a quarter of a mile of the breakers one of the ancnors was let go, seeing that the vessel was in a dangerous position, Captain Hopewell, of the brak Medina, Captain Wooley, of the bark Dundee, Pilot DeFries and the Harbor Master went on board to assist Captain Nixon and his crew. Three more anchors were thrown over, but they failed to hold the vessel against the force of the strong cale and to heavy seas, and she was driven on the reef. All of the persons mentioned, Captain Nixon's wife and son, and all of the crew were washed overboard, and the vessel became a total wreek. Mrs. Nixon, who had on a life-buoy, the captain's son and First

SALE OF THE LAFARGE COLLECTION.

The sale of the Lafarge collection of faience and bronzes was continued yesterday afternoon at No. 817 Brondway. About 100 persons were present and the bidding was active. The receipts of the afternoon sale amounted to about $2,000. Among the most curious and valuable lots sold were the following: A black marble clock and side pieces, $35; a ronze figure of Spring, $30; a royal Drescen centre piece with birds and snowbail decorations, $30; a Limoges jardinere, $30; a pair of Biccarat viases with bronze dragon handles, and decorated with flowers and traits, $110; a pair of Copeland figures of Night and Morning, $50; a set of gift china, painted by hand, $190. The concluding sale in the evening was composed entirely of paintings by European and American artists. One by Craig, of Forence, representing three figures in the costume of the fifteenth century, and entitled "The Easter Hymn," brought $300. Among the other pictures were the following: "Falstaff and his Recruits," by Caubault, of Paris, $90; a seene from the "Merry Wives of Windsor," by A. F. Tati, $40; the "Bear Pance," by William Beard, $250; and a "Bouquet for Grandpa," by J. C. Thorn, $85.

BARROOM AFFRAY AT MOUNT VERNON. BARROOM AFFRAY AT MOUNT VERNON.

Wednesday night Michael Powers, John Scanlon and Bernard O'Hanlon were playing cards at a barroom kept by O'Hanlon at Mount Vernon. A dispute arose between O'Hanlon and Scanlon, when O'Hanlon tried to settle the matter by shooting at Scanlon twice with a revolver, inflicting two severe but not dangerous wounds on his head. Scanlon, who is a powerful young man.turned upon O'Hanlon and gave him a severe beating Scanlon then went home for his gun, with which he sought O'Hanlon with the intention of putting a ball through him, but Michael Powers succeeded in wresting the weapon from him and discharged it in the air. Dr. L. Jeschminsky was then called to aftend Scanlon. He found two weands on the top of his head, inflicted by bullets from O'Hanlon's revolver. O'Hanlon has not been seen since the affray, and his bar was closed all day yesternay. He is under an indictment, found some eighteen months, ago for shooting at Michael Powers.

ON TRIAL FOR MURDER.

The trial of Lawrence Doyle, of Tuckahoe, Westchester County, charged with having caused the death of Mrs. Ellen Rvan, May 5, 1880, was begun yesterday in the Court of Oyer and Terminer, at White Plains. James Ryan, the husband of the deceased woman, was the first witness. He testified that he was with his wife and the prisoner the night before the murder, and that they drank liquor together. The next morning the witness and his wife went to Doyle's house, when more liquor was sent for and the drinking was renewed. He put his wife to bed, after she had become stupid from drinking, and then left the house. On his return he learned that his wife's body was found in the woods close by. Dr. A. M. Campbell, of Mount Vernon, testified that he made a postmortem examination of the body, and discovered that the woman had been assaulted, and found wounds on her head and face. The trial of Lawrence Doyle, of Tuckahoe, West-

$22 TO $900 EACH,

Though the majority of Styles are at from $100 to $200. XAVER SCHARWENKA, of Berlin, writes, "These Ma-son & Hamilto Organs are the most excellent Instruments son & Hamilio Organs are the most excellent Instruments that I knew of. They are espable of giving the finest tone coloring, and no other instrument so enraptures the player;" and similar opinions have been expressed by many other celebrated musicians. Dr. PRANZ LISZT has characterized them as "matchless." "unrivalled;" THEODORE THOMAS propounces them "the best instruments of the class made either in this country or Europe;" ITALO CAMPANINI either in this country or Europe;" ITALO CAMPANINI any knowledge. But you have better proof of my opinion of your Organs than even this expression, in the fact that I have just purchased one to take with me to Italy," J. H. MAPLESON and LUIGI ARDITI, manager and conductor of Her Majesty's Italian Opera Company, say: " We have never een an organ of this description which equaled your Lisza
